

Torch Strategic Mission Scholarship

Torch Trinity Graduate University

For Spring 2020 Enrollment

What is Torch Strategic Missions Scholarship?

From its inception, the founders of Torch Trinity Graduate University envisioned a theological graduate school that would contribute significantly to the world Christian movement by training leaders from the majority world where the Gospel has least penetrated and where quality theological education is least accessible.

With this vision, local Korean churches and Torch Trinity Graduate University joined hands to offer the Torch Strategic Mission Scholarship (TSMS) to a limited number of qualified applicants, especially from unreached people groups. As of December 30, 2017, 171 students had completed their study with Torch Strategic Mission Scholarship program. TSMS is a distinguished scholarship given to Christian ministers, who possess outstanding academic and ministry potential, from missionally noteworthy regions. The scholarship includes full tuition and room and board for the duration of a recipient's degree program. For the recipients in the Master of Divinity program, the scholarship extends for three consecutive years. For the Master of Education, Arts, and Theology recipients, the scholarship extends for two consecutive years.

Basic qualifications to apply to TSMS are as follows:

- A. The applicant must meet all the qualifications for admissions for any master's degree program at Torch Trinity.
- B. The applicant must be a native of a strategic mission country with a vision to plant/build the church there or another place of equal strategic value.
- C. The applicant must demonstrate financial needs beyond the support of the applicant, family, or other possible sources.
- D. The applicant must apply from a missionally strategic country.

IX. DORM

All TSMS recipients (including partial scholarship recipients) are required to stay in the dorm while they study in their degree programs. The Admissions Office will handle this part of their scholarship.

X. WELLBEING

As you can imagine, life away from home for several years will certainly include excitement and adventure, but sometimes even loneliness and discouragement, especially from adapting to the rigors of academic discipline and unfamiliar cultural aspects. Torch Trinity expects that each TSMS student will not only acknowledge these realities, but also to have the basic physical, psychological, and spiritual wellbeing to successfully finish their study and training. Applicants are responsible to perform basic research on what life in Korea would be like including weather, food, and culture.

If you have concerns, especially if they are not obvious from your application, please contact the Admissions Officer during the application stage.
